

For Officers, Senators...

Elections Over, 1,291 Votes Cast

By ROLAND BOYKIN JR.

Have you voted?

Go to the polls and vote.

These were the cries heard Sept. 15 and Sept. 17 as Missouri Southern College students decided who was to represent them as class officers and senators on the 1971-72 MSC Student Senate.

Of the 3,000 students eligible to vote, 738 students cast ballots in the class officer elections and 553 students voted in the senate elections.

David Efird captured the presidency of the senior class with 47 votes over Tom Fenton's 46 and Ray Willard's 27. The vice-presidency was won by Jim Ford, who was unopposed, and the race for secretary-treasurer had no aspirants. The president of the class will appoint a secretary-treasurer.

Kent Estes triumphed in the junior class presidency race with a total of 86 votes. Randy Stanley was second with 46, and Larry Cowger third with 28. There was no contest for the vice-presidency, so the position will be filled by appointment by the president. Pam Higginbotham was elected secretary with no opposition.

Roland Boykin Jr. won the presidency of the sophomore class by the flip of a coin after tying with Scott Hickam for the position. Both candidates totaled 74 votes. The vice-presidency went to Bruce Lais with 91 votes, while Frederick George totaled 53. Kristen Bailey captured the secretary-treasurer spot with 80 votes, while Nancy Tyler was second for that position with 69.

Kevin Herd notched a victory for the presidency of the freshman class, totaling 141 votes. Larry Taylor was second with a total of 65. Others included Steve Short, 63; Tom Hindman, 17, and Terry Frock, 13. The vice-presidency went to Terry Sherwood with a total of 157 votes. Pam Shute was close behind with 138. The secretary-treasurer position was filled by Debby Baker with 169 votes. Gayle Edwards was second with 125 votes.

The senior senators elected were Carolyn Bastian, Tom Fenton, Dixie Gossett, Shara Lea Shores, Ray Willard and Irma Woodward.

Freshman senators are Mary Davidson, Cindy Hearn, Marcia Klein, Stephen Short, Vicki Simmons and Larry Taylor.

The first meeting of the 1971-72 Missouri Southern College Student Senate was held Sept. 23. Among the business talks carried on was a discussion of recruiting students to attend MSC.

Other discussion included talks on dress code rules; a parliamentary procedure bill by Tim Hughes; a bill allowing senate minutes to be published in The CHART, the college newspaper.

Also to be introduced is a bill concerning the selection of winners in the student senate elections in the event of a tie, which will be introduced by Jim Roberts, junior senator, and a bill dealing with the time student senate meetings are to be held, scheduled for introduction by Jeff Dymott, treasurer of the senate.

ACE holds luncheon in College Union

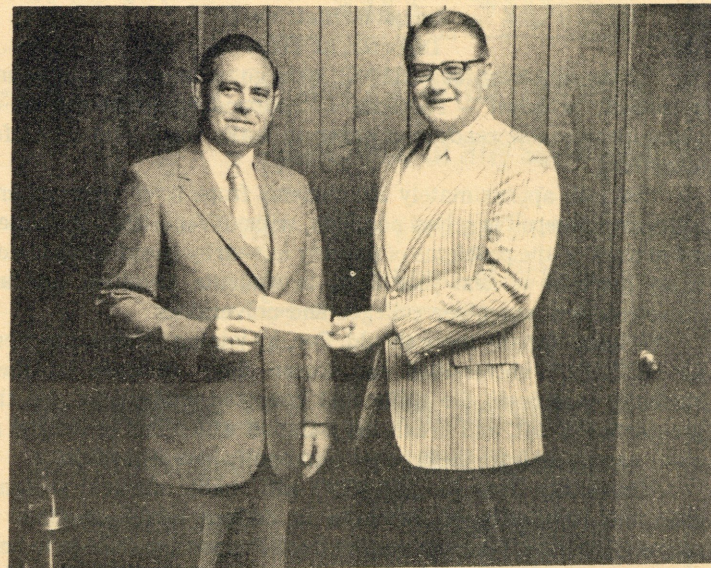

On Sept. 30, the Association of Childhood education held a "Get Acquainted" luncheon in the College Union Building.

New members and guests were welcomed and the regular meeting was opened.

The ACE president, Sue Cluck, brought the group up to date on Homecoming plans and procedures.

Three girls were selected as preliminary candidates to represent ACE for Homecoming Queen. The girls chosen were Joyce Fugate, Judy Parker, and Mary Riley.

Other club business included a motion to attempt to "adopt" a U.S. Army unit stationed in Germany and club members agreed to work with other on-campus organizations for an all-campus project.

MSC Named As Beneficiary

Missouri Southern College has been named a beneficiary in the will of Mamie Drummond of Bentonville, Ark. who died in July of last year. The bequest of Miss Drummond specifies that a perpetual Memorial Scholarship fund be established in the name of Edna C. Drummond, deceased sister, who was the first Dean of Women of Joplin Junior College, now Missouri Southern College.

Edna Drummond was a teacher in the Joplin Public Schools from 1930 to 1955. She was a member of the Joplin High School Faculty from 1930 to 1937.

During the 1937 and the 1938 school terms she taught at both Joplin High School and Joplin Junior College. She became a full time science instructor at the Junior College in 1938 where she continued teaching until her retirement in 1955. She died in February of 1966.

The will of Mamie Drummond directs that thirty percent of the remaining money, after all obligations have been satisfied, be used by the Board of Trustees or other College officials for the purpose of assisting students in the science department in the furtherance of the student's education. This amounts to $43,187 and was presented to Dr. Leon Billingsly, President of Missouri Southern College, by Charles Gocio, executor of the estate. Gocio is an attorney in Bentonville. Dr. Billingsly said that the money would be placed in the Foundation Fund and the annual returns used for science scholarships.

Homecoming Procedures Outlined

Missouri Southern College campus organizations sponsoring a Homecoming Queen candidate must file nomination forms and photos with the Homecoming Committee by 12:00 noon Friday, October 15, according to George Hosp, chairman of the Queen Election and Coronation Committee.

The first public appearance of the queen candidates will be Saturday, October 23 when they will ride in the annual Maple Leaf Festival Parade in Carthage. Other appearances of the candidates will be at the pep rally, Alumni Reunion Dinner and the "Town Criers" concert on October 29 and in the Homecoming Parade on Oct. 30 and concluding on the same day with the queen coronation and the Homecoming dance.

The election for Homecoming Queen will be on Friday, October 29 when each regularly enrolled student at the college is eligible to cast one vote for his choice. Six princesses are also to be elected at this time. Crowning ceremonies will be held at half time of the football game between Missouri Southern College and Morningside College of Sioux City, Iowa.

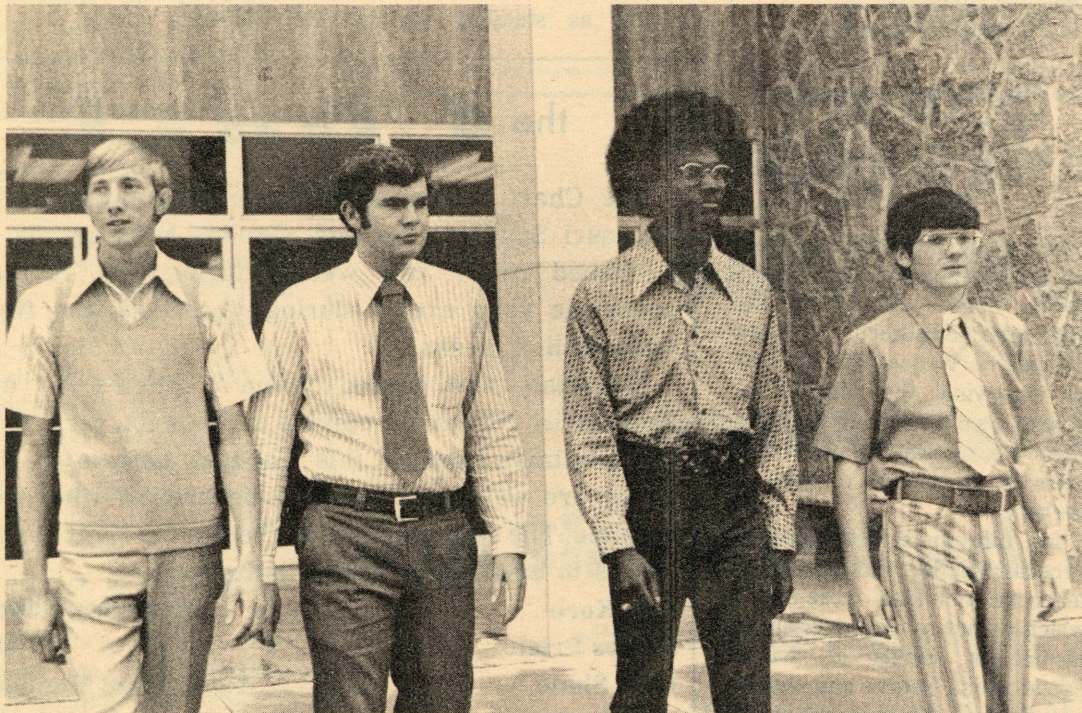

MSC Biology Club Membership Open

Do you like slimy, furry, or cuddly critters? Or maybe you're interested in this old polluted world of ours.

If so why not join the MSC Biology Club. If you have an interest we want you. You can contact any of the instructors in the Biology Department or any of the Club officers.

A new ruling this year enables persons with less than 10 hours of Biology to join as associate members. This year's officers are Jake Marbough, President, Dale Brotherton Vice Pres., Lynn Hurley Sec., John Zuvekas Treas., and Christie Nichols Parliamentarian.

Many activities and Guest speakers are scheduled for this first semester. Dr. Keller, the pre-med advisor of KSC at Pittsburg, is tentatively scheduled to speak on the "History of Medicine" at the next scheduled meeting to be held October 21.

UNIVERSITY YEAR FOR ACTION

by
Joseph H. Blatchford
Director, ACTION

"University Year for ACTION" is the government's latest — and potentially broadest — response to the hundreds of thousands of young people now ready and eager to make their lives count for something.

This fall, approximately 500 students from 11 universities and colleges will enroll in school and then, without reporting for classes, set to work on the problems of poverty in nearby communities. How many more do so next year is up to students, faculties, and administrators of our other colleges and universities.

We believe many more should. For, by joining "University Year for ACTION," universities can loosen their embrace on their students, tear down the walls that keep the students in and the greater world out, and break the isolation which has estranged so many campuses from the broader community in recent years.

"University Year for ACTION" will enable medical students from the University of Nebraska to deliver health services to migrant laborers, business majors from Pepperdine College to help black owned and operated businesses succeed in Watts, and education students from the University of Colorado to help Indians in South Dakota develop their own unique educational system.

And while doing all this, students will not be delaying their own careers, but will be enriching them with practical experience. Full academic credit up to 30 hours will be awarded for a full year's voluntary service.

Student volunteers will receive a modest subsistence allowance, varying with community living costs. The average monthly allowance will be $185. The volunteers also receive paid medical insurance.

But for many students, particularly married students with families or students who have no financial resources, participation will require a significant personal financial sacrifice. Volunteers work full time and are prohibited from securing part-time or summer employment.

To mitigate the financial hardship for students who otherwise would receive scholarship aid or who rely on part time and summer employment to finance their education, ACTION will set aside $50 a month in escrow to be paid to these volunteers on completion of 12 months service in the program.

Any student, undergraduate or graduate, enrolled in a participating university is eligible for the program. The university itself will seek out work assignments in poverty areas, looking to the poverty organizations and low-income people themselves to define the areas where assistance is needed.

"University Year for ACTION" is a partial fulfillment of a pledge President Nixon made in January to students at the University of Nebraska. He called for an alliance of generations — of rich and poor, black and white, youth and aged — which would blend the experience of one with the commitment of the other.

"University Year for ACTION" is a major attempt to forge that alliance. But beyond "University Year for ACTION" are other initiatives which must be considered if we are to provide young people with the equipment to make our world a more fit place in which to live.

We must start now to expand the capability of our schools to train young people for community service separate from their full-time careers. With the advent of the four-day week, the extended vacation and the secure retirement, citizens are in a position to seek ways to put their new-found leisure time to better use.

Idle hours are welcome as respite from the cares of the workday, but as the time allotted to leisure grows longer, many Americans will have the desire to fill those hours with meaningful service. If our schools have prepared them for a second career in service, our Nation's untapped talent could then be unleashed.

We are in need of men and women to provide supplemental health delivery services, to work in parole and probation work, to build parks, monitor air and water, plant trees ... even to get the trash off the streets.

Because many of these problem areas require specialized training, our schools must take the initiative in structuring classwork to provide training for part-time service after graduation. And inevitably, this must begin with our young people, for they are in our colleges and high schools now.

Much has been made of the "generation gap" which supposedly exists between those under and those over age 30. Pessimists would have us believe that this gap is unbridgeable, a manifestation of the divisive factors which rend our society today.

But the young of any generation have always sought to identify with the most noble aspirations of their society. What youth today is questioning is the credibility of values which lead to the pollution of our environment, the imprisonment of our poor in ghettos and the perpetuation of the cycle of poverty.

The solutions to these problems are being sought in Washington, on campuses and in local communities all over America. But more must be done to involve the young in these solutions. "University Year for ACTION" is an important step in encouraging that involvement.

Violinist...

Vicki Sheerer Will Perform With Tulsa Philharmonic

By Mike McGoldrick
Staff Writer

A nervous 22-year-old college graduate walks into Harweldon Hall in Tulsa, Okla., plays the Bruck Concerto in G minor on the violin, and suddenly finds herself a member of the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra.

This was the experience of Vicki Sheerer, who graduated from Missouri Southern College in the spring of 1971.

The audition was held Sept. 12.

Vicki was present as a result of the suggestions of her music instructor, Mrs. Mary Bingham Porter of Joplin. Vicki was the only representative of Joplin present at the audition.

Miss Sheerer begins rehearsing with the Philharmonic on Sunday, Oct. 17, with the first concert scheduled for one week later in Oct. 25 at the Municipal Theatre in Tulsa.

Vicki's contract extends through April and includes four or five major concerts, along with several tour concerts.

The conductor for the Tulsa Philharmonic will be Skitch Henderson, former band leader on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show.

Miss Sheerer became interested in music in a Joplin elementary school music program. She has been playing the violin for the last 16 years.

During her audition, Vicki was required to sight-read the material she played, or play it without having seen it before. She was offered the contract immediately following the audition.

When talking about music, Vicki said "Violin is the only thing where I'm sure I have talent, so I'm confident. I play for myself, things I enjoy."

However, Vicki does not plan to make music her entire life.

"If I devote all my time to music, it gets to be a job," she stated. "Then it's not something you can really enjoy."

Seneca Seniors At MSC

Thirty nine Seneca High School seniors, members of the Lifetime Sports Class, will be on the Missouri Southern College campus on Wednesday, October 13 observing the MSC Fundamentals of Physical Education class. The group will attend a class in tennis and a class in archery.

The Lifetime Sports Class at Seneca High School endeavors to teach the individual those sports which do not require a group to participate. Single or double participating sports and games are stressed. The purpose of the course is to interest the high school student in a lifetime sport rather than a short time team competitive sport, according to Gene Hill, Seneca instructor.

She does plan to make sociology her full-time interest.

Miss Sheerer was a sociology major at MSC, graduating with a 3.4 grade point average on the four-point scale.

She will be involved in social work, primarily juvenile delinquents, in addition to her activities with the Philharmonic.

CIRUNA Sponsors Model U.N. Event

Fourteen area high schools and Cottey College of Nevada, Missouri, will send representatives to the first annual Missouri Southern College Model Security Council to be held Friday, October 22 from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the College Union Building. The Model Security Council is sponsored by Ciruna, "Council on International Relations and United Nations Affairs," a political science and history club.

Topics to be discussed include the following: Admission of the People's Republic of China, Donald Hoops, chairman of the committee; Middle East, Robert Jordan, chairman; and World Ecology, Steve Searcy, chairman. All chairmen are MSC students and members of Ciruna.

Each high school will have six delegates and one faculty adviser. Two high school students will be allowed from each country to discuss each topic. The three topics will be discussed simultaneously.

MSC students and Ciruna members are acting as student advisers to the high school delegates. They are meeting with the schools before the conference and will continue to advise the students at the Model Security Council.

The event is scheduled to coincide with United Nations Day, October 24. The purpose in staging the Model Security Council is to provide an educational experience for high school students in studying the United Nations and its workings as well as studying various countries to understand them and their views. It will provide an opportunity for the high school students to come to the MSC campus and become acquainted with faculty, students and the political science and history programs at the college. It also affords MSC political science and history students a leadership experience in working with high school students.

The countries, representative high schools and faculty advisers include: United States, Carthage, Sally Crawford; Soviet Union, Joplin Parkwood, Bill Biggs; United Kingdom, Joplin Memorial, Bill Hoffman; China, Neosho, Russell Johnson; Burundi, Baxter Springs, Pearl Smith; Columbia, Galena, Kansas, Wayne Landwehr; Finland, Webb City, Alfred Jenkins; Nepal, Sarcoxie, Sylvan Falmer; Nicaragua, Carl Junction, Bill Cullers; Poland, Joplin McAuley, Ted Monsour; Sierre Leone, Lamar, Don Page; Spain, Mt. Vernon, Velma Meyer; Syria, East Newton, Charles Goode; Zambia, Jasper, Chris Dean; and France, Cottey College, Dr. McCleda Maas.

Dan Koch is Secretary General and president of Ciruna. Steve Searcy is vice president, Jim Rust is secretary and Jim Buck is treasurer. Mrs. Annetta St. Clair is the faculty sponsor.

More than ninety high school students will be participating and some sixty faculty and student advisers will be on the side lines. Several high school history classes will be in attendance for observation.

At Barn Theatre...

“Rosencrantz...” Now Underway

By JIM PRICE

“Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead,” the first production of the season at the Missouri Southern College Barn Theatre, is currently playing to big crowds at the Theatre.

The play, which began Monday night this week, will wind up with an 8 p.m. performance Saturday night.

Duane Hunt is director for the MSC production.

Curtain time tonight is 8 p.m.

The play, by Tom Stoppard, has enjoyed long runs in both London and New York and concerns two minor characters, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern, from Shakespeare’s “Hamlet.”

The events take place in the late 1200s. The setting, however, is a Danish stronghold of 300 A.D.

In “Hamlet,” the two characters enjoy no reality. In “Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead,” their disassociation with reality extends the question of what is real and what is not.

The humor, with word plays and puns, is of two gentle, bewildered human beings who know they can’t change what has already been decided.

Reserve seats may be obtained by contacting the Barn Theatre at MSC, 624-8103. general admission is $1.50.

Season tickets are also available and may be obtained by phoning 624-8100. Cost is $5 and entitles the bearer to four admissions during the season.

Other productions scheduled by the Barn Theatre this season are “Three Little Foxes,” Nov. 29-Dec. 4; “Once Upon a Mattress,” March 13-18; and “She Stoops to Conquer,” April 24-29.

KA Order Banquet Set Tonight

The Delta Pi chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order of Missouri Southern College will hold a formal installation banquet at 7 p.m. tonight in the Spanish Main Room at the Holiday Inn. The affair will commemorate the fraternity as the first nationally affiliated Greek organization at MSC.

Formal and informal petitions were presented to the national KA Order by the MSC fraternity Pi Beta Lambda last spring, and in early September of this year, notification of acceptance was received.

An initiation service is also scheduled Saturday at the First Baptist Church of Joplin.

Randy Scholze, president of the group, has named 18 MSC students as pledges for the first semester. They include Rick Boyd, Jack Burrell, Jim Canton, Steve Harlan, Rick Harmon, Scott Newby, Brent Kirschman, Barry Richard, Norman Rouse, Steve Shore and John Crawford, all of Joplin; David Whittington and Mark Haguewood, Ozark, Mo.; Phil Edgington, Mount Vernon, Mo.; Kevin Herd, Carterville, Mo.; Steve Stearnes, Carthage, Mo. and Todd Thorpe, Nevada, Mo.

KA Alumni will be guests at all of the ceremonies and the Greater Joplin Kappa Alpha Alumni Association will be chartered later this year.

PRICEless Gems

CHART EDITOR

The night was dark.

The wind screamed around the corners of the bleak little apartment.

The sky was black, overcast, but bolts of blue lightning slashed across the heavens as peals of thunder echoed in the distance.

The rooms in the little apartment were also dark.

I crept across the floor slowly slowly moving slowly toward the humming machine in the next room.

Steadily I made my way to the front of the machine. Holding my breath and with a burst of courage, I threw open the door.

A hideous yellow beam of light flooded the room.

I shielded my eyes, reached in the machine and grabbed the small cylinder can.

Slamming the door shut, I was again enveloped in total darkness and I ran to the next room.

I crouched down in the corner, below and to the right of the only window in the place.

Carefully, I transferred the can to my left hand.

Shaking at first, I gradually pulled the tab from the top of the can with my free right hand.

There was a slight sound, a kind of whoosh.

The contents bubbled to the top. Suddenly, a beam of artificial light shot into the window.

The beam fell on the Missouri Southern College student handbook, which was open at the section dealing with students in possession of alcoholic beverages in on or off-campus student residences.

The light then struck the small cylinder can in my hand.

I threw the can away and ran, searching for a place to hide.

The light from the window fell on my “Bud-man” sign. It revealed my bottle of Cutty Sark.

I crouched behind my Ancient Age poster, but the light flicked off and a harsh knocking came from the only door, the front door.

With a resigned sigh, I rose. It was all over.

The chase had ended.

One wonders about the implications of the MSC student handbook stating that no students may be in possession of intoxicating beverages in on or off-campus student housing facilities.

Assuming that this includes students 21 years of age and older, living in their own homes and apartments in Joplin and surrounding towns, (off-campus student housing facilities?) this particular rule seems somewhat ridiculous.

Even more ridiculous, however, is the question of how a rule of this type might be enforced.

Liquor in the dorms is easily enough enforceable, but what about students living in their own apartments and homes, or homes or parents?

Perhaps this might involve some discussion on the part of the student senate.

And by the way, a two-china policy doesn’t seem very economical. Can’t the White House get by on one set of dishes?

The new draft law, which gives President Nixon the authority to end student deferments starting with the 1971-72 school term, is currently in effect.

Men in college before this year may retain deferments for four years total or until the age of 24, whichever comes first.

Students drafted while in school may postpone induction until the end of the academic year. Current new students are not entitled to student deferments, but may complete their year’s work.

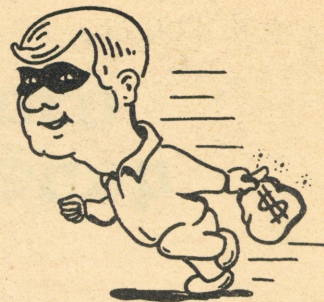

Apparently there’s a lot of interest in this column, so it looks like I’ll be able to continue it.

Both people said they liked it a lot.

Homecoming festivities are rapidly approaching. Really looking forward to hearing “The Town Criers.”

Hey, how about that football game against Emporia State. The Lions of Jim Frazier really looked sharp.

Unfortunately, the Lions dropped a 21-7 decision to the Kansas State College at Pittsburg

Gorillas, but the score doesn’t tell the complete story.

The Lions gave Pittsburg all they could handle and more.

Try to get out and see the Lions at the rest of the home games this year. You might be surprised — and pleased.

Keep those cards and letters coming, folks.

Anyone having a question or comment about anything in general, be sure and tell or drop a line to this scribe.

All letters, poison-pen, black hand or otherwise, are welcomed.

And just because it might be controversial or disputable doesn’t mean it won’t get printed or answered.

Surely somebody out there has a question or a gripe they’d like to see in print?

That is, if it’s printable.

That’s about it for this time around. Keep an eye out for the Homecoming issue of THE CHART, scheduled for delivery to the MSC campus exactly two weeks from today.

It should be an eye-opener.

And watch for the next edition of “Priceless Gems.” It’ll be an eye-opener too.

And maybe some other things. Till then, Ta.

Harold Willis Guest Speaker

Harold R. Willis, assistant professor of psychology at Missouri Southern College, will be the guest speaker at the SNEA meeting, scheduled for 1 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19, in room S-205 of the Science-Math Building.

His subject will be titled "BRAINWASHING—and the Subliminal Effects of Propaganda."

Willis is a retired U.S. Navy commander, with services including electronics officer and intelligence officer.

He spent 12 years in the Aerospace and Missile Industry following his retirement from the Navy. His title during this time was Space Scientist for Human Engineering.

Willis worked on the original design of the Mercury Capsule, Tital I, II, and III missiles, and the C5A Transport of Lockheed controversy.

He has authored the book "Sovietized Education," and has written several newspaper and industrial journal articles dealing with the field of "human error."

In 1950, he was selected "Father of the Year" of Washington D.C. by the Washington Post. His awards include the George Washington National Honor Medal, with membership in Phi Delta Kappa, American Association of University Professors, National Education Association, Missouri State Teachers Association, American Psychological Association, Texas Psychological Association, California Psychological Association, the Exchange Club of Joplin, and several others.

His education includes such schools as San Diego State College, San Diego Junior College, George Washington University, Department of Agriculture Graduate School, Jackson College, University of Hawaii, Graduate School—Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Degrees include AB in education with a teaching major in English and minor in science; MA in Education and MS in Psychology, and the equivalent of a BS in Electronics Engineering from the U.S. Navy and college.

He is currently a Ph. D. candidate in Experimental Psychology, Washington University.

MSC Jayvees

Wallop BBC

For 2nd Win

By KENT McBRIDE

The MSC junior varisty won their first game of the season by defeating the Springfield Baptist Bible College Blazers, 41-0.

The Lions scored the first time they got possession of the ball with Jim Nieman capping a 65-yard drive with a four-yard run.

Later in the first quarter George Bruto fired a 34-yard touchdown pass to Bob Banner and Harry Grindrod added the PAT.

In the second quarter Bruto again tossed a scoring aerial, this time a seven-yard strike to Bob Mueller. Grindrod again booted the extra point and the young Lions boasted a 20-0 lead at the half.

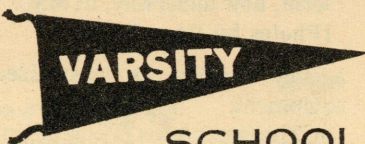

In the second half Francis Peltoner scored two TDs, one on a seven-yard scamper in the third quarter and the other coming on a 12-yard jaunt in the fourth quarter.

Bruto added the two-point conversion.

The Lions' final TD came with no time remaining in the game. As time ran out a penalty was called against BBC.

Since the rule states that a game can't end on a penalty, the Lions had another scoring opportunity. Bruto lofted a 45-yard aerial that bounced off the hands of a BBC defender and into the hands of Nieman, who took it in for the score. Grindrod added the PAT again, giving the Lions the final 41-0 victory.

This is the first season that MSC has fielded a junior varsity. The young Lions' record now stands at 1-1. The loss came at the hands of the junior varsity at NEO at Miami, Okla., 19-0.

New at MSC...

Plenty of Activity At Police Academy

There are several primary functions at the new Police Academy Building at Missouri Southern College:

1. Provide classrooms and laboratories for MSC students interested in law enforcement studies. The college offers the Associate of Science degree in Law Enforcement.

2. Provides the physical facilities and personnel for the creation of a new Regional Police Recruit Academy. The need for such a training facility for our area has long been recognized, and it is anticipated that the Missouri Legislature will pass a "minimum standards" act in the very near future. Such a bill would require that all persons engaged in law enforcement work complete approximately two months of intensive training at a recognized police academy. Many states already have such a requirement, and it essentially creates a "licensing" requirement for policemen to assure a higher uniform quality of personnel throughout the entire state. While many departments have training programs for their recruit officers, there are also far too many who give their men essentially NO training before entrusting them with this vital community trust.

MSC will become the "hub" for police training in this part of Missouri. Within a few more weeks, students will begin seeing police officers from many areas on campus to attend training sessions at the Academy building.

3. The Academy will function as the center for what is referred to as "In-Service" training for area officers as well. It is recognized that with the rapid changes in our laws and in police technology, any officer already working in the field must periodically report for re-training and up dating on the latest methods.

MSC faculty member Roy Dix is already serving to fill this area, as he travels daily from one police department to another conducting in-service classes for lawmen. Much of Mr. Dix's work will focus on training officers in the Academy itself once the program becomes fully developed.

This training for officers is furnished at no cost to the individual lawman or his department. Region IX of the Missouri Law Enforcement Assistance Council in cooperation with MSC furnishes the financial support for the programs which lie outside the college's regular law enforcement degree program.

4. A regional Criminalistics or Forensic Science laboratory is being organized at this time, and will also occupy space in the new academy building. A critical need exists for a local facility for handling evidence from crime scenes. Although any police officer may submit evidence to the FBI laboratory or the Missouri State Highway Patrol laboratory, the increased work load results in time lapses of up to 3 months before the evidence can be evaluated and returned. Tentative plans include the possible use of some MSC faculty members who have expertise in particular fields such as chemistry to work as consultants in the new crime lab.

5. In connection with the main laboratory in the Academy building, the Mobile Crime Lab for this region is also housed there in its own specially constructed quarters within the laboratory area. This van type unit, also a LEAC funded project, is on call to any area police agency needing its specialized equipment.

6. The first pieces of equipment for the new Photo lab in the Academy arrived this week. A darkroom-studio complex will contain the latest in enlargers, dryers, and countless other items for teaching and operating a photographic lab. This too will be utilized by area law enforcement agencies as well as MSC students interested in this phase of training.

7. Another feature at the academy building will be a program of seminars conducted by specialists from the FBI, Highway Patrol, and a variety of other agencies. Attendance is expected at these short courses from wide areas within our three state region. Top flight experts will be available to discuss vital subjects such as community relations, improving police standards, burglary and homicide investigation and countless others.

8. The office in the Academy building probably most familiar to MSC students so far is that of Supervisor Mat Matthews and his Campus Security unit. Auto registration stickers and other campus problems are handled through this office with the friendly assistance of the Academy's secretary, Mrs. Linda Dick.

The building doesn't look very big from the outside, but there will be a lot going on inside. Law Enforcement Department Director Donald Seneker extends an invitation to faculty and students alike to stop in, look over the facilities, and "get acquainted."

Job Talks Slated At MSC

Representatives from six business and accounting firms will be on the Missouri Southern College campus during the first semester interviewing senior students, especially those graduating at the end of the semester. The firms' representatives are looking for graduating college seniors as prospects for job vacancies and new job openings for their companies. All interviews are scheduled to be held in the MSC Placement Office by appointment only.

The schedule includes the following:

THURSDAY, OCT. 28 — Internal Revenue Service — Interviewing accounting majors for positions of Internal Revenue Agents; also business and liberal arts majors for positions of Revenue Officer and Tax Auditor.

MONDAY, NOV. 1 — Southwestern Bell Telephone Company — Interviewing December and May graduates both men and women for initial Management Development Program. All academic majors eligible who possess high grade point average.

MONDAY, NOV. 8 — Montgomery Ward Company — Interviewing graduates with baccalaureate degrees in business for positions in Accounting, Credit, Marketing or Business related fields; and Management Trainee positions in South Central Region of United States.

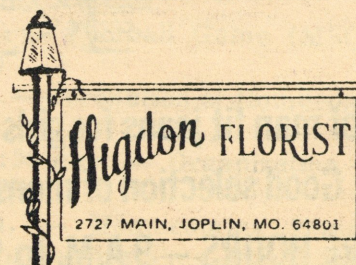

THURSDAY, NOV. 11 — R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company — Interviewing December and May graduates for positions in management and sales.

FRIDAY, NOV. 12 — Haskins and Sells — Interviewing accounting majors ONLY.

FRIDAY, NOV. 19 — Arthur Anderson and Company — Interviewing accounting majors ONLY.

Students must have credentials on file in the Placement Office before interviewing. Interviews are approximately 30 minutes in length. Other firms both local and national are being scheduled for the second semester.

Placement Office at College Provides Important Functions

The placement office, usually associated with the task of matching people and jobs, offers an equally important service through career counseling, aiding students in clarifying their educational and vocational objectives.

An understanding on the part of the student of his interest aptitudes, limitations, etc. and a knowledge of the world of work makes matching an individual's qualifications with a job much easier and certainly more gratifying to all parties concerned. Students are invited to use career counseling and placement services early in the pursuit of a formal education.

Although Missouri Southern College is considered to maintain centralized placement services, the placement officer coordinates the functions of his office with other guidance and counseling services available to students on campus. The services more specifically related to finding employment are centered in the placement office.

A collection of information folders supplied by major business establishments, industries, governmental agencies and educational institutions are made readily available in the placement office library. A record of current information on job opportunities and announcements of on-campus interviews is posted either on bulletin boards or bound in notebook form for student use. Students are invited to visit the placement office regularly.

Candidates for graduation must register with the placement office. Registration involves answers only to several basic questions.

Employers usually request credentials of a potential employee before making final judgment on their selection. Most graduates will want to develop a set of credentials for the placement office files.

The placement office personnel provide assistance in the development of credentials.

Credentials are retained in the placement office files indefinitely and may be up-dated, declared inactive, or activated only by the student upon written request.

Lions Pound Emporia State, 18-3

But Drop Decision to KSC, 21-7

By Jim Price

Jim Frazier's Missouri Southern College Lions broke loose before partisan fans at Junge Stadium two weeks ago and notched their first victory of the season, rocking the Emporia State Hornets, 18-3.

Despite the rain and mud, the Lions delighted some 4,000 MSC fans and punched out the win to bring their record to 1-3.

Although the MSC offensive unit finally pushed across its first touchdown of the year during the final minute of play, MSC's aggressive defensive team turned the tide of the battle in the second half and put the Lions' first nine points on the board and set the stage for Max Mourglia's third field goal of the season.

The Lions, having troubles moving the ball early in the season, came out attacking from a wishbone-T formation, producing MSC's top offensive effort of the season in rushing, 193 yards.

Statistics
	Emporia	MSC
First Downs	11	14
Rushing Yardage	109	193
Passing Yardage	64	39
Passes	6-19-5	5-7-0
Return Yardage	39	119
Fumbles Lost	2	3
Punts	4-29.2	10-29.5
Yards Penalized	70	60

Emporia — Hare, 30 FG.
MSC — Korner, 8 run with blocked punt.

MSC — Safety, (Wolfe tackled Blackwell in end zone)
MSC — Mourglia, 28 FG.
MSC — Starks, 27 run. Kick failed

Ray Harding, a 6-2, 210-pound junior quarterback who broke most of the school's aerial records last season, made his first start of the season and went all the way. Mike Sexton, regular signal-caller for the Lions, was out with an ailing knee injury. Harding carried the ball 21 times, netting 59 yards. He connected on five of seven passes for an additional 39 yards.

Sophomore tailback Terry Starks led the MSC ground attack with 71 yards in 15 trips. Freshman fullback John Carter of Carthage added 35 yards on 12 carries and junior fullback Larry Perry notched 33 yards on nine trips.

The Lions, however, traveled to Pittsburg, Kan., last Saturday night for a contest with the Kansas State College Gorillas and came out on the short end of a 21-7 score. The Gorillas were a tough team, and the MSC crew had their hands full, playing on the KSC home field.

MSC, nevertheless, turned in a fine showing, displaying a tough, stubborn defense all the way.

It was the fourth meeting of the interstate rivals.

MSC blasted through the Gorilla defense for 140 yards on the ground and added 142 yards through the aerial lanes.

Sophomore Steve Howard of KSC, who rewrote the record books as a freshman Gorilla, was limited to only 58 yards on the ground by the stingy MSC defense. Howard is an NAIA All-America candidate this year. The total was tops for the KSC crew's offensive effort.

Mike Sexton, quarterbacking the Lions from the second quarter on, finished as the game's leading rusher, capturing a total of 65 yards on 11 carries.

Tailback Terry Starks added 40 yards on 13 trips.

MSC, now 1-4 for the season, will journey to Topeka, Kan., Saturday for a contest with Washburn University.
